GM headwinds before new platform ramp

CITI'S TAKE

Lotes' 2Q26 GM (-4.1ppt QoQ) was dampened by rising raw material costs and learning curve for new products. As server ODMs seemingly face component shortage of memory, PCB, CPU, etc., the company expects the meaningful ramp-up of new CPU sockets for new server platform would be delayed, which would also negatively impact its GM profile in 2H26. Despite late ramp-up of new server platform, we remain positive on overall regular server industry growth in 2026/27 and believe more meaningful ramp of new server platform would drive Lotes' business in 2027. We cut our TP to NT$2,500 (20x 2027E EPS) from NT$3,000 (23x 2027E EPS). We cut our multiple to factor in concerns over AI bubble risks and sustainability of CSPs' capex. Maintain our Buy rating.

2Q26 GM miss — Despite robust server demand, 2Q26 GM declined 4.1ppt QoQ, dragged by rising raw material costs and learning curve for new products. The mgmt. indicated they have depleted the low-price inventories and thus saw inflation impact on margin. Overall, OP levels missed Citi/consensus forecasts by 30%/29%.

3Q26 GM under pressure — As server ODMs seemingly face component shortage of memory, PCB, CPU, etc., the company expects the meaningful ramp-up of new CPU sockets for new server platform would be delayed into 4Q26 or early 1Q27. Thus, the company could timely reflect the rising material costs with its new product. Currently, the company expects its 3Q26 GM would likely be at similar levels to 2Q26 GM. The company would adopt more stringent cost controls and yield improvement (especially for upcoming new products) to support its GM profile.

Server demand remains robust; QD/SOCAMM to ramp — Despite the headwinds, the mgmt. remains positive on the whole regular server demand in 2026/27 (15-20% YoY/>20% YoY growth in unit), based on customers' order forecasts, though some demand would be delayed into 2027 due to production bottleneck. New Intel/AMD server platform penetration would see more meaningful increase in 2027, which would drive Lote's server business in our view. Meanwhile, QD and SOCAAM would finally enter mass production in 2H26, with momentum sustaining into 2027.

Earnings/TP cuts; maintain Buy — We cut our 2026/27/28E earnings by 14%/5%/7% to factor in GM headwinds in 2H26 mainly and delayed server demand. We cut our TP to NT$2,500 (20x 2027E EPS) from NT$3,000. Maintain Buy rating.

Lotes

Company description

Established in 1986 and listed in 2007, Lotes is a leading solution provider of connectors and cable assembly services based in Keelung, Taiwan. The company runs a fully integrated business model, with product design, tooling, molding, stamping, electro-plating and automation process all under the same roof. Majority of Lotes' manufacturing capacity is located in China, Guangzhou, Huanan, and Suzhou, with headquarters located in Keelung, Taiwan. The main focus areas include CPU socket/ILM and connectors for DDR, PCIe, SATA, Type-C, and etc. Specifically for CPU socket, Lotes is now the No.2 supplier globally with 25%+ of global market share. Lotes also owns 3,200+ patents globally for product design and manufacturing process protection, which has raised the bar for new competition. Lotes started the business as a PC connector supplier but has shifted its focus to server and other non-PC business in recent years. Management targets to increase its non-PC related exposure 70% to total sales in next 5 years, vs 56% in 2018.

Investment strategy

We rate Lotes as Buy. Lotes has c25%+ global market share in CPU sockets and is seeing rising exposure to servers. We expect Lotes to grow its sales and earnings at 16% and 27% CAGR in 2023-25E, backed by server sales growth, CPU platform migration and spec migration in sockets. We forecast server-related sales to account for 30-35% of total sales in 2024-25E, vs. 28% in 2023. As server products generate better margins than PCs, we expect margins to improve based on product mix changes and better manufacturing yield as well as cost efficiency. We also expect CPU platform transition and spec migration of connectors to lead to ASP increases amid limited competition.

Valuation

Our target price for Lotes is NT$2,500. We value Lotes based on PE as we believe the company's earnings performance and industry dynamics would be the key focus of the market. Our target price is based on 20x 2027E EPS, which is at the higher-end of the historical trading range since 2015 and is justified by the company's successful transformation from a PC-centric component maker to a company with increasing server exposure (posing higher entry barriers), robust earnings growth and margin expansion, as well as rising ROE.

Risks

Key downside risks that could cause Lotes shares to trade below our target price include: 1) Potential delays in CPU launch schedule; 2) Peer competition; 3) Raw material price hike; 4) Patent litigation; and 5) FX volatility.

Citigroup Global Markets Inc. or its affiliates currently has, or had within the past 12 months, the following as clients, and the services provided were non-investment-banking, non-securities-related: Lotes.

Analysts' compensation is determined by Citi Research management and Citigroup's senior management and is based upon activities and services intended to benefit the investor clients of Citigroup Global Markets Inc. and its affiliates (the "Firm"). Compensation is not linked to specific transactions or recommendations. Like all Firm employees, analysts receive compensation that is impacted by overall Firm profitability which includes investment banking, sales and trading, and principal trading revenues. One factor in equity research analyst compensation is arranging corporate access events between institutional clients and the management teams of covered companies. Typically, company management is more likely to participate when the analyst has a positive view of the company.

For financial instruments recommended in the Product in which the Firm is not a market maker, the Firm is a liquidity provider in such financial instruments (and any underlying instruments) and may act as principal in connection with transactions in such instruments. The Firm is a regular issuer of traded financial instruments linked to securities that may have been recommended in the Product. The Firm regularly trades in the securities of the issuer(s) discussed in the Product. The Firm may engage in securities transactions in a manner inconsistent with the Product and, with respect to securities covered by the Product, will buy or sell from customers on a principal basis.

Unless stated otherwise neither the Research Analyst nor any member of their team has viewed the material operations of the Companies for which an investment view has been provided within the past 12 months.

Guide to Citi Research Fundamental Research Investment Ratings:

Citi Research stock recommendations include an investment rating and an optional risk rating to highlight high risk stocks.

Risk rating takes into account both price volatility and fundamental criteria. Stocks will either have no risk rating or a High risk rating assigned.

Investment Ratings: Citi Research investment ratings are Buy, Neutral and Sell. Our ratings are a function of analyst expectations of expected total return ("ETR") and risk. ETR is the sum of the forecast price appreciation (or depreciation) plus the dividend yield for a stock within the next 12 months. The target price is based on a 12 month time horizon. The Investment rating definitions are: Buy (1) ETR of 15% or more or 25% or more for High risk stocks; and Sell (3) for negative ETR. Any covered stock not assigned a Buy or a Sell is a Neutral (2). For stocks rated Neutral (2), if an analyst believes that there are insufficient valuation drivers and/or investment catalysts to derive a positive or negative investment view, they may elect with the approval of Citi Research management not to assign a target price and, thus, not derive an ETR. Citi Research may suspend its rating and target price and assign "Rating Suspended" status for regulatory and/or internal policy reasons. Citi Research may also suspend its rating and target price and assign "Under Review" status for other exceptional circumstances (e.g. lack of information critical to the analyst's thesis, trading suspension) affecting the company and/or trading in the company's securities. In both such situations, the rating and target price will show as "—" and "—" respectively in the rating history price chart. Prior to 11 April 2022 Citi Research assigned "Under Review" status to both situations and prior to 11 Nov 2020 only in exceptional circumstances. As soon as practically possible, the analyst will publish a note re-establishing a rating and investment thesis. Investment ratings are determined by the ranges described above at the time of initiation of coverage, a change in investment and/or risk rating, or a change in target price (subject to limited management discretion). At times, the expected total returns may fall outside of these ranges because of market price movements and/or other short-term volatility or trading patterns. Such interim deviations will be permitted but will become subject to review by Research Management. Your decision to buy or sell a security should be based upon your personal investment objectives and should be made only after evaluating the stock's expected performance and risk.

Catalyst Watch/Short Term Views ("STV") Ratings Disclosure:

Catalyst Watch and STV Upside/Downside calls: Citi Research may also include a Catalyst Watch or STV Upside or Downside call to indicate the analyst expects the share price to rise (fall) in absolute terms over a specified period of 30 or 90 days in reaction to one or more specific near-term catalysts or events impacting the company or the market. A Catalyst Watch will be published when Analyst confidence is high that an impact to share price will occur; it will be a STV when confidence level is moderate. A Catalyst Watch or STV Upside/Downside call will automatically expire at the end of the specified 30/90 day period. The Catalyst Watch will also be automatically removed if share price performance (calculated at market close) exceeds 15% against the direction of the call (unless over-ridden by the analyst). The analyst may also remove a Catalyst Watch or STV call prior to the end of the specified period in a published research note. A Catalyst Watch/STV Upside or Downside call may be different from and does not affect a stock's fundamental equity rating, which reflects a longer-term total absolute return expectation. For purposes of FINRA ratings-distribution-disclosure rules, a Catalyst Watch/STV Upside call corresponds to a buy recommendation and a Catalyst Watch/STV Downside call corresponds to a sell recommendation. Any stock not assigned to a Catalyst Watch Upside, Catalyst Watch Downside, STV Upside, or STV Downside call is considered Catalyst Watch/STV No View. For purposes of FINRA ratings distribution-disclosure rules, we correspond Catalyst Watch/STV No View to Hold in our ratings distribution table for our Catalyst Watch/STV Upside/Downside rating system. However, we reiterate that we do not consider No View to be a recommendation. For all Catalyst Watch/STV Upside/Downside calls, risk exists that the catalyst(s) and associated share-price movement will not materialize as expected.
